Why not? VPN and Gateway are the two most common methods. What's your reasoning for not wanting to use a Gateway?

We have been using it for one of our RDS servers and it has been a life saver. Before the system was constantly getting attacked by brute force attacks and getting infected with cryptolocker. Once I installed it and after a few short clicks I had it locked down (literally in minutes) and have never had a problem since. It was well worth the small price that it cost for us.
